Perrysburg's Birthday celebration was an event that is worthy of a place in the history of the town and will be retained for many years in the memory of every citizen and visitor who was enabled to enjoy the "big celebration," as it has been called by the thousands of visitors present.

There has been so much and great praise from out-of-town people that it is unnecessary for the Journal to add more. It was an event of which every Perrysburg citizen could feel proud.

Early in the forenoon people began coming into town and when the hour (12:30) for the forming of the parade had arrived, there were people, estimated by those who are familiar with such scenes, to be close to ten thousand, along the line of march, awaiting and applauding the splendid features of the pageant.

Forming on Indiana avenue, under direction of the various marshals and their aides, the pageant moved at 1:50 p. m. under direction of Grand Marshal Dr. W. H.

Rheinfrank, over the following streets: Louisiana avenue to Front, Hickory, Second, Pine and again on Front and out Louisiana avenue and corner March, the time being more than one hour.

After disbanding the pageant the Perrysburg band gave a splendid concert during the time prior to opening of the speaking and musical programme.

The first division of the pageant consisted of historical floats, and banners and living representations of incidents relative to the past century of our village life.

The first float was a representation of the Block House. On and about the float were American soldiers of that period in the attitude of defense against the attack of the British and Indians who are surrounding them.

It should be remembered that all of the characters were dressed in correct costumes of the period represented, and were furnished by a professional costumer.

The period of 1816-26 was represented by an immense canoe with Indians bringing furs to the trading post at Perrysburg.

The old prairie schooner of the following period brought to the minds of the older people the days of overland transportation. The heavy scow shaped wagon box with the balloon-like canopy or covering in which were seated the pioneer with his family; and the old dog following the wagon, on the sides of which were hung or strapped numerous tools and household articles to enable the courageous family in the beginning of life in the new home—Perrysburg.

THREE NEAR DEATH

Auto Overturned on the Track and Struck by Electric Car.

Three people were injured, one fatally, it is believed, in an auto crash east of Toledo, Saturday morning.

The three are: Dr. F. P. Minton, of Millbury, O., skull probably fractured; may die. Mrs. F. P. Minton, injured internally. Hiram E. Davies, their son-in-law, of New York city, bruised and his back wrenched badly.

Dr. Minton and his wife were taken to Toledo hospital. Davies went to the home of friends on the East Side.

The accident happened on the Lake Shore Electric road, five miles east of the city.

The automobile in which the injured people were riding overturned into a ditch directly in front of a Lake Shore car, which demolished the auto and dragged Dr. and Mrs. Minton and Mr. Davies 100 feet.

BUMPS COUNTRY JUSTICE.

The automobile speed trap industry in Ohio was dealt a body blow in an opinion handed down by the attorney general's office ruling that township justices of the peace have no right to collect fines in speed cases.

The opinion holds that peace justices do not have final jurisdiction in speed cases, but should only bind over to the probate court or court of common pleas. The opinion also holds that all motorists from whom fines have been wrongfully collected have the right to recover such amounts.

It is not known, association officials say, how many thousands of dollars may have to be restored to automobilists.

MAY DIE FROM ICE TONG THRU IN EYE.

ROSSFORD, Aug. 22.—A. J. Bourdeau, 28, 632 Nasby street, may die from a wound inflicted by the point of an ice tong.

Bourdeau, who works in the Shepherd grocery in Rossford, was handling a chunk of ice Monday, when the tongs slipped. The point went through his left eye, destroying the sight.

Dr. H. J. Herold, Rossford, attended Bourdeau, who was taken in Parks' ambulance to St. Vincent's hospital.

MAUMEE'S COURTESY.

The business men of Maumee closed their places of business and declared a holiday for the purpose of helping Perrysburg celebrate.

It was a graceful courtesy and bespeaks the spirit of good will which now exists between the people of the towns.

We doff our hat to the good people of Maumee.

PARKING AUTOS.

It will cost you 25 cents to park your auto at the Wood County Fair this year on account of the increased cost of everything that goes into the making of a good Fair. However, it's worth it, so we will pay and never make a growl.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Concrete Stable Floors—Marketing Fall Apples—Rye for Pasture.

Do you know that concrete floors placed in your stables or feeding barn will pay for themselves through the manure that they save in less than one year? Results recently published by the Ohio Experiment Station show that the manure from a lot of feeding cattle was worth $4.58 more per steer for one year where the cattle were kept on concrete floors than where stabled on dirt floors. Allowing 40 square feet for each steer and estimating the cost of the concrete at 8 cents per square foot the cost of the floor would be $3.20 per steer. This would leave a profit for the first year of $1.38 or a return of more than forty per cent profit. In addition the sanitary conditions of the stable would be more ideal and the labor required to remove the manure much less.

Farmers and fruit growers are finding that fall apples packed in neat peck baskets find a ready sale when placed in stores or sold from wagons. At this time of the year consumers do not care to have an over supply of fall apples on hand and a peck generally supplies one family for several days.

Have you provided plenty of pasture for your hogs during the fall months? If not, rye may be sown any time during September or October on stubble land or after corn has been cut for silage or fodder. Livestock farmers find that rye makes excellent temporary fall and winter pasture. One and a half bushels to the acre is enough for early sowing but two bushels should be used later in the season.

The season of active seed sowing is now past, but spinach, turnips, radishes and lettuce can be matured if sown at once. Sowings of spinach and radishes may be made until the middle of the month with some assurance of a profitable crop if the weather conditions are normal. Spinach which does not become large enough for fall use may be wintered over for a spring crop, with a little or no protection. Lettuce (leaf) may be sown early this month in the open in the expectation of a good crop. Later plantings should be made in cold frames.
